TOWN OF WARWICK POPULATION TREND AND IMPACT
Warwick Planning Board

This year for the first time in recent memory there are no children entering kindergarten at the Warwick Community School. Our town population is aging with many homes having only a single resident. Having no children in kindergarten suggests young families are not moving into town, and we have a lot of older people who will be dying off in the years to come. Does this mean our town population will decline? Might housing prices collapse in future years? If old folks die off and they are not replaced, what might happen? Recent Warwick List (Warwick L) traffic raised some additional concerns. The Planning Board felt the issue was important to the town and has researched the issue. It has developed a six page paper that might serve as the beginning of a conversation about visioning for the future of our town. A copy of the paper entitled TOWN OF WARWICK POPULATION TREND AND IMPACT is available at the library or email ted.cady@peoplepc.com.

CRAFTERS / EXHIBITORS:
Please note that the Warwick Holiday Fair will be held on Saturday November 19th this year (one week earlier than the past few years) at the Town Hall.

BROADBAND RELAY TOWERS APPROVED
Ted Cady, Planning Board

The Broadband Committee is anxious to get started improving our broadband speed and making it more accessible to underserved areas of town. An important component of the plan is to have relay stations on monopoles. Monopoles are a fancy name for telephone poles. These poles might be as high as 60 feet and would receive the broadband signal and retransmit it to an area that does not have a good “view” of the primary transmitter. The Broadband Committee requested an opinion of the Planning Board as to whether or not a hearing would have to be held for each pole as is required of National Grid or Verizon when they want to set a pole. The Planning Board feels that a hearing is not required for two reasons. First, while the poles exceed the 35 foot height limit for buildings, the poles would not be a problem for firefighters in the unlikely event one caught fire, and therefore should not be considered as a building. Second, special permits are usually required for non-home-based commercial enterprises, but the Planning Board feels that the town high speed broadband effort is not a commercial effort but more like a community service. You can get a copy of the Warwick Broadband Monopole Opinion of Planning Board by emailing ted.cady@peoplepc.com. And, thanks should go to the Broadband Committee for planning ahead.

MOORE’S POND BEACH NOTES

Old Home Day Corregatta Homemade Cardboard Boat Race.

Its time to build your boat for the third annual race on Sunday, August 28th at 2pm.

The challenge is to build a human-powered corrugated boat capable of racing a 100 yard course on Moore's Pond. All boats are to be designed and built prior to the day of the race. All racers must come ready to race inside the boat. Boats may be powered by canoe paddles, kayak paddles or muscle power.

There will be Adult and Youth events. All entrants and crew must wear life preservers and be able to swim. All participants must sign and date a "Hold Harmless" waiver and release to be collected prior to the race. Awards will be given for first, second and third place winners in both categories; as well as the best sinker and the fan favorite. Rules and regulations are available at the Town Hall and Library. See photos of past races!

Other Pond News

Large rainbow trout as well as a few brookies are being caught.
Last week an adult eagle (white head) flew over the pond and dipped to catch a fish.
It then circled the pond, passing four of us in a vertical curve with head and both wings fully visible.
The beach has been busy during these hot days.
Enjoy the rest of the summer and cool off at the pond.

NEVER Leave Your Dog in Your Car with the windows up! Tragically, a Warwick dog died in July after being in a car with the windows closed.

Always check to be sure that no pets are in the car before you go into your home, as animals can jump in your car while you have a door open and are busy with other things.

Warwick Arts Council News by Tom Wyatt

The Warwick Arts Council is pleased to present: Albert Einstein – Relatively Speaking on Saturday August 27th at 7pm in the Warwick Town Hall, as part of Old Home Days. Please join us for this unique one man show by George Capaccio, a long-time Boston performer. Funding for the free event was provided by the Warwick Cultural Council and all are welcome.

In this one-hour interactive performance, you are invited into the boundary-breaking universe that is the mind of Albert Einstein. You will discover that time and space are inseparable, that time actually slows down the faster you go, and that if you could travel at the speed of light, time would actually stop! But there’s a lot more to the story than Einstein’s insights into the nature of reality. George focuses on the great scientist’s very human qualities, including his sense of humor, his fondness for Jewish jokes, and his trials and tribulations as a family man. As part of the show, you’ll time travel with George on the trajectory of Einstein’s life — from lowly patent clerk in a Swiss office to world-class physicist. George will pay comparable attention to Einstein’s later years as a rebel with a cause, fighting for social justice and individual freedom, and against racism and war.

News flash: The 26th Annual Warwick Art Show & Sale is just around the corner! Why not put your work on display in the Town Hall on Columbus Day weekend in October? Greater Warwick area artists of all ages & experience levels are encouraged to complete those creative projects. If you make it, we’ll show it off — whether it’s fiber art, ceramics, collage, puppetry, wood carving, furniture, monotypes, jewelry, drawings, sculpture, photography, painting or something else. Details upcoming.

Pocket Park in Orange

There is currently a fundraiser for a new park in Orange, which would be tucked into a small space downtown on East Main Street.

As a Warwick resident, I find myself doing business in Orange several times a week - most often getting groceries at Hannaford or Quabbin Harvest (the food co-op), but also buying gas and using the post office. It is also where my kids catch the bus into Greenfield. I like to see flowers planted downtown and the colorful new mural, and to know that there is music weekly at the bandstand, and a farmer’s market.

The proposed project - which you can read about at https://www.patronicity.com/project/east_main_st_pocket_park - needs less than $2600 to reach its goal and receive matching grant money from Mass Development, but the deadline of August 7th is fast approaching.

Here is a bit of the description:

"The proposed renovation includes a 20’ mural, a seating area by the sidewalk, a path that leads to stairs to the local food co-op and raised beds for the youth and neighboring co-op to grow fruits and vegetables. Sidewalk repairs and lighting improvements will help to connect sections of the downtown that may have felt disparate and disconnected for some time."

I think it is important for Warwick folks to take an interest in what happens next door, so please join my family in supporting this project! - Claudia Lewis

Admission was free on Free Fun Friday recently and since I had never been to the Fitchburg Art Museum all the years I’ve lived in this area, I chose to go to see what it was like. I found it to be a nice little museum less than one hour from Warwick. Basically 3 buildings encompass the museum, but all are connected with enclosed walkways. The section Discover Ancient Egypt was my favorite as it was more historical with information how they use to mummify. Did you know it would take approximately 2 months before they buried their family members? The process was amazing. The last area we visited was Evoking Eleanor, which I found very informative about Eleanor Norcross, the founder of the museum, who claimed Fitchburg and Paris her homes. They had paintings and furniture from her collections and a guide who was very knowledgeable about her.

On the way home, we stopped for lunch at The Old Mill in Westminster, which I hadn’t been to in years. The lunch specials were very reasonable ($9 to $11) and that includes a basket of rolls with their special pecan rolls and a dish of corn fritters served with butter and maple syrup. We thought we had gone to heaven, they were so good. I ordered the Baked Stuffed Haddock and for 99 cents I could add a side so I got rice pilaf and wished I hadn’t, because the casserole of haddock was huge. The haddock was cooked to perfection and topped with delicious seafood stuffing. Because I ate the fritters and a pecan roll, I took half my order home for another meal.

We had a great day within an hour of Warwick and were home to enjoy the afternoon and evening. Hope you enjoy my little venture instead of just a restaurant review this month. I try to change things up once in a while.

Happy Trails and Bon Appetite.

Dear Friends,

We have all been deeply disturbed by the of the self-proclaimed “Islamic State” terrorists over the past few years. Through their indiscriminate acts of violence, it has become increasingly obvious that this is not a religious movement, as they themselves and some in the western media claim, but an army of hate-blinded individuals willing to lash out at anyone who is near at hand. They murder innocent Muslims in much greater numbers than “infidels”. They attack Muslim pilgrims fulfilling their religious obligations near sites holy to Islam. This is not religious zeal; it is extreme ideology at its ugliest.

Recently, we’ve been troubled by a barrage of violent acts in our own cities and towns; more mass shoot-ings, more images of some police, individuals and units, acting like occupying forces rather than public servants protecting everyone’s civil rights, and social and political activists willing to do “whatever it takes” to advance their cause. It seems we have returned to the upheaval of the 1960’s but armed with more powerful weapons of mass disturbance and a deeper sense of cynicism and despair. Barry Goldwater’s proclamation that “Extremism in defense of liberty is no vice. Moderation in pursuit of justice is no virtue.” seems to have taken deep root in our national psyche. Incrementalism, moderation and (God forbid) compromise are reviled as capitulation and surrender.

Years ago, when I was rebuilding and repairing old houses and barns for a living, I would often have to begin by lifting the entire structure to repair the foundation or sill beams. This was a slow and incremental process. If I tried to straighten out an old sagging building too fast, I might cause the collapse of a large portion of the structure. Once the foundation was repaired, the building could be slowly lowered, realigning walls, posts, beams and all elements of the building so windows and doors and floors and stairs all worked together once again in a safe and strong whole.

The foundations of our social system are in need of close inspection to see what is strong and what has become extremely compromised. We claim to have built the nation on a firm Christian foundation, but the increasingly obvious sag in the whole structure says something is way out of alignment. The prophets of the Old Testament warned the rulers and wealthy élites of Israel that putting personal profits, privileges and comforts before the well-being of the people would spell eventual disaster; oppression of the poor and the “stranger” would lead to collapse. A return to the firm and straight foundation of justice and compassion needed to begin and continue for generations. This is slow, incremental, extensive, communal work that is hard and sometimes unpleasant, but the alternative is simply one more iteration of the same old same old; just substituting a new oppressive group for the current one.

All the major religions build upon foundation stones of justice and compassion. And they all call for personal introspection and communal interdependence. We can’t hope to build a sound social structure without taking an honest and critical look at our own personal life structures; what are my prejudices, how and why have I developed them? Did they ever and do they now enhance and sustain healthy communal relationships? The national leadership of the United Church of Christ has been developing a curriculum for local congregations called “Sacred Conversations” to help in the difficult and sometimes painful process of honest self-evaluation, repentance and renewal. The latest resource is called “White Privilege; Lets Talk”. This is not so that we become overburdened with guilt, but to be set free from old weights and chains, fences and barricades that were set up long ago for protection but now confine and repress us; to open us up to the possibility of developing new relationships of mutual respect, justice and compassion.

Jesus didn’t build walls, he torn them down to build bridges of love and hope and compassion.

In faith,  Dan
AUGUST EVENTS

The building that houses the Metcalf Chapel was built Rev Preserved Smith in 1816. We will be commemorating its 200th anniversary during Old Home Days. There will be a reading from a history of the building, including an account of the moving of the building with horses and log rollers, on Saturday at the Library at 11 AM. The Mission Committee will have a table on the Town Hall lawn with paper replicas of the chapel and the hymn sing Sunday will be held at the Chapel at 6:30 PM. Come help us celebrate this old house and its connections with the history of our town.

VACATION BIBLE DAYS AUG 1 – 4  TWO DAYS OF FIELD TRIPS

On Tuesday (8/2) we will take a trip to Heifer Farm in Rutland to learn about the work Heifer Project does around the world, bringing animals to communities that are struggling to survive.

On Wednesday, we will go to the Orange Food Pantry to help fill food boxes for those in the area who are “food insecure”. Then we will take a trip to the Western MA Food Bank in Hadley to see where much of the food for Orange and other pantries gets collected, sorted and delivered.

These two days will be longer than usual and we will be looking for adults to go with us as chaperones. We will also need to know which students will be coming so we can let these two places know how many to expect. We can bring up to 16 people to Heifer Farm and an unlimited number to the Pantry & Food Bank.

If you would like to be included, please let us know. You can leave a message on the Chapel phone (978) 544-2630 or contact Dan Dibble or Tom Zniti.
